

Malnutrition Reduction Program (MRP): Implementation Assessment in the Context of Local Governance

Duration: 2023 -2024

Host Institution: DOST - Food and Nutrition Research Institute (FNRI)

Project Description

Local governance plays a key role in the acceptance and sustainability of community-based nutrition programs like the MRP. Understanding the dynamics and implementation process at the local level will provide significant inputs in re-designing community-based programs. The project will investigate the implementation of the MRP at the local level as influenced by the policy environment, local governance and community relations.
